Plans for possibly digging a "big hole" in Newport Harbor to bury some dredged material were discussed at a community meeting Wednesday.

Prior Comments Echoed at Latest 'Listen & Learn' Workshop

By Sara Hall | NB Indy

As the city is working its way through the districts with the recently launched community engagement effort called "Newport, Together," which includes a series of interactive workshops designed to involve citizens in discussions on community values and the city's General Plan Update, a few common trends are starting to emerge.

Plans for possibly digging a "big hole" in Newport Harbor to bury some dredged material received an icy reception at a community meeting this week.

The purpose of the proposed dredging project is to restore the harbor to "design depth" to provide necessary navigation and improve tidal flushing.

City staff's goal is to dredge now and then "never have to think about a major dredging project again," Public Works Manager Chris Miller explained during the public scoping meeting on the project, held Wednesday in the Friend's Room at the Central Library.

If this is done now, there might be some cleanup projects over the years, but nothing of this magnitude in his lifetime, he added.

In partnership with the Army Corps of Engineers, the city plans to dredge approximately 1.2 million cubic yards of sediment starting in 2021 (in an ideal world, best case scenario, and dependent on funding, according to Miller). This is phase two, the first phase in 2012 dredged DREDGING Page 15

Community: Home Holiday Safety Tips from NBPD

The Newport Beach Police Department wished residents a safe and happy holiday season in a message this week, and took the opportunity to share some safety tips as well.

At home for the holidays:

Always lock all doors and windows whenever not home. Use timers to turn on a radio and lights.

If decorating a live tree, always turn off tree lights when away.

Avoid displaying holiday gifts in places where they will be easily seen from your windows or doors.

Always keep porch lights on from dusk to dawn.

Don't let home deliveries pile-up at front door, they can attract a package thief or home burglar.

Track delivery online. Check package's delivery status for an estimated delivery time and try to be home.

Consider leaving the TV on and calling out to a fictitious family member or roommate (who will "stay home") while going out for the evening. For example: "Tom, don't forget to let the dog out!"

Call the police to report anything suspicious. Use NBPD's non-emergency line at (949) 644-3717.

When on vacation, call the Newport Beach Police Department and request a FREE Vacation Check at 949-644-3681.

"Don't advertise that you are out of town on your phone message or social media profile," police warned. "Secure your garage door with a vacation bolt or pad lock and disable the remote access."

CHARITY SPOTLIGHT SHINING A LIGHT ON LOCAL NONPROFITS AND PHILANTHROPISTS

Newport Businessman Honored at Night of Miracles Gala

By NB Indy Staff

Nonprofit organization Miracles for Kids honored a local resident and raised a record-breaking $1.8 million at its signature Annual Night of Miracles Gala on Oct. 12, according to a press release.

Themed "Rock the Miracle," the gala welcomed more than 500 of Southern California's most influential business leaders and philanthropists at the picturesque Monarch Beach Resort in Dana Point, officials reported.

"This year's gala showcased the extraordinary generosity of our community. The Miracles for Kids family is beyond thankful to our group of sponsors, donors, volunteers, and supporters - not only after special evenings like this, but every day," cofounder & CEO of Miracles for Kids Autumn Strier said in a statement. "Their generosity and support of our mission allows us to continue to make everyday miracles in the lives of critically-ill children and their families in desperate need."

Tim Smith, founder and principal of The Smith Group - Coldwell Banker Residential Brokerage of Newport Beach, was honored as the 2019 Miracle Maker at the Miracles for Kids annual gala on Oct. 12.

Every year the organization also recognizes an outstanding supporter whose passion and dedication has made a significant impact in the lives of Miracles for Kids' families. According to the message, the 2019

Miracle Maker Honoree was Tim Smith, founder & principal of The Smith Group — Coldwell Banker Residential Brokerage, in Newport Beach. For nearly a decade, Smith has dedicated his personal and professional time, energy, and resources to serve Miracles for Kids' children and families, officials noted.

"Miracles for Kids children are facing unimaginable obstacles and it means the world to be able to make even the smallest difference in the lives of these families — this is why I first became involved with Miracles for Kids and why I continue to work hard in support of the organization," Smith said in the prepared statement. "I am honored to be named this year's Miracle Maker and to be a part of the Miracles for Kids team and look forward to continuing to work alongside this incredible organization to positively impact those who need it the most."

According to the press release, the lead sponsorship lineup included McLaren Newport Beach. The car dealership displayed a $300,000 red 720S spider during the event, which was a photo highlight of the evening, contributing to the excitement of their donated McLaren LA weekend getaway in the live auction.

Notable guests included director/ producer Joseph McGinty Nichol, known professionally as McG, coowner of A Restaurant.

Kure It Cancer Research Holds 'Let's Save Lives' Gala

More than 250 guests gathered at the City National Grove of Anaheim on Nov. 9 for the Kure It Cancer Research "Let's Save Lives" gala.

Founded by Newport Beach resident Barry Hoeven, the local nonprofit aims to fund research to cure kidney and other underfunded cancers.

At the event, a video featuring a myriad of survivors telling their stories of hope and belief in cancer research drew praise.

Survivors attending he gala included Cathryn Guisto, Kenneth Knudsen, Karalayne Maglinte, Tom Minasian and Joshua Schulman, according to information received from Kure It.

This year's Kaprielian Cup, Kure It's most highly regarded annual award named for Barb Kaprelian, who passed away in 2014 from her 14-yearold battle with cancer, was presented to City National Bank for its generous donations to Kure It Cancer Research.

Kure It Board Chair Todd Perry announced a new collaboration with UCI, with Kure It committing $1 million over five years to UCI's cancer research program.

Net proceeds from the event reached $260,000 for cancer research, according to a Kure It press release. For more information, visit
